

What's next, Wildcat?

From the moment they arrive on campus, UNH students are supported in their quest to identify pathways to rewarding careers and in their preparation for life after college. The UNH Career Center is a lifelong resource for Wildcats that can help with choosing a major, finding internships, preparing for interviews, applying to graduate school, even changing careers decades later. Taking advantage of these services is one way that UNH students parlay a strong undergraduate education in any discipline into a lifetime of learning and success.

Survey data gathered from 2013 graduates by the UNH Career Center shows what we mean:

Survey Data Key:

- Percent employed
- Percent enrolled in graduate or professional school
- Percent actively seeking employment or planning to enroll in graduate school
- Percent reporting their current job/internship related to major
- Percent reporting they are "satisfied" or "very satisfied" with post-graduation employment

SURVEY RESPONSES, BY COLLEGE

College of Engineering and Physical Sciences

College of Health and Human Services

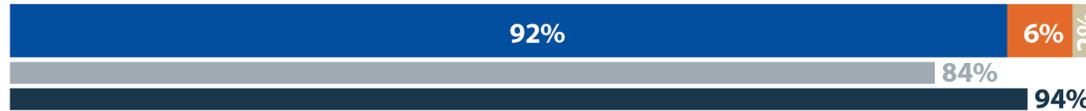

College of Liberal Arts

College of Life Sciences and Agriculture

Peter T. Paul College of Business and Economics

"While at UNH I was very involved in campus organizations and I worked at the Elliot Alumni Center. Being so involved in the UNH community helped me realize how much I enjoyed my experience and eventually led me to a career in higher education, on the alumni relations team at the Harvard Kennedy School in Cambridge, Mass."

Where is Wildcat Country? It's Everywhere!

Graduates with a degree from UNH can start their careers anywhere, from New England to California to Singapore. With 133,000 alumni living in the U.S. and in 78 countries across the globe, your Wildcat alumni network is there to support you.

UNH's Pathways Mentoring Program pairs interested students with alumni in year long, one-on-one partnerships to help them develop career and networking skills. Alumni partners have either a similar major or work in a professional field that is of interest to the student and are able to impart first-hand knowledge of what to expect in the professional world after graduation.

And don't forget about social-media as a networking tool. With almost 10,000 alumni and students in the official UNH group on LinkedIn, it's a great time to become a member and start connecting.

Wildcat Careers

Real-world Work Experience

Wildcat Careers is UNH's job and internship posting board—a popular virtual meeting place for employers seeking knowledgeable staffers, and enthusiastic students seeking real-world experiences in their fields of study. Wildcat Careers is available to current UNH students and graduates up to two years after graduation. Paul College hosts its own version through its Paul Career Center.

"I was recently named a NASA Solar Systems Ambassador, so I will be putting on local STEM events that are endorsed by NASA. I also attend selected NASA launches and cover them as a social media journalist. It's not the typical career path for a mechanical engineer, but I have been having the time of my life! UNH has been kind enough to try to help me bring [my ideas] to fruition."
